

ART THERAPY (ARTH)

ARTH 2290 Introduction to Art Therapy. (Formerly 290) Art Therapy is an approach to psychotherapy that combines the visual arts and other creative processes to foster deep personal growth, community development, and healing. Various art modalities are woven in to the therapeutic process to meet the unique needs of the client, group of clients, or issue. Through creative expression and reflection on the art products and processes created people can gain a deeper awareness of self and others, cope with stress and traumatic experiences, learn how to self soothe, and make healing connections. Art therapy is a mental health profession that is utilized for all ages across all settings including hospitals, clinics, educational institutions, community agencies, wellness centers, businesses, and private practices. 3 semester credit hour/s.
