

BACHELOR'S DEGREES

1. A student must earn at minimum 120 semester credit hours to be considered for graduation and must maintain a "C" average (2.000) in all Benedictine University coursework.
 - Courses with a number below 1000 are designated as developmental coursework and hence do not count toward the 120 semester credit hours required for graduation.
 - University-level courses completed to fulfill a condition of admission count toward the 120 semester credit hour graduation requirement, but do not satisfy University Core requirements.
 - Under no circumstances is it possible for a student to have these requirements waived for graduation. Any appeal requests to waive the minimum GPA, minimum credit, or minimum residency requirements cannot be considered.
2. At least 30 semester hours of the minimum of 120 semester hours required for a Bachelor's degree must be in upper division coursework (at the 3000 level or above).
3. The undergraduate residency requirement is at least 30 semester credit hours must be completed at Benedictine University (at least 12 semester credit hours of the minimum 30 semester credit hours at BenU must be at the 3000 level or above and in the major).

In addition, at least 54 of the 120 semester credit hours for graduation must be completed at a four-year regionally accredited college. The 54 credit rule will not be applicable for a student admitted and completing their degree through a consortium agreement or non-traditional program stating otherwise.

Semester credits hours received through an External Credit Program will not be counted towards the minimum credits at four-year colleges or the undergraduate residency requirement

Select one of the following:		3
IDS 2201	Catholic/Benedictine Traditions
IDS 2202	Catholic/Benedictine Intellectual Traditions: Sustainability/Stewardship (S designation)

IDS 3304	Human Dignity/Common Good: Sustainability/Stewardship and Global (S and G designation)

The Interdisciplinary Seminars provide an integrated, coherent experience to prepare students for a life of flexible learning and responsible inquiry. These courses require students to bridge disciplines, widen perspectives, discover connections, and integrate knowledge. As part of the General Education Curriculum, the Interdisciplinary Seminars address important general questions and unstructured problems that engage the themes of the Catholic and Benedictine Intellectual Traditions and of Human Dignity or the Common Good; sections designated S and/or G place these questions in the context of sustainability and/or global society (and meet the associated co-curricular requirements). The seminars provide students with an integrative liberal arts learning experience, advance the University's essential learning goals, and engage students in a better understanding of the Benedictine and Catholic hallmarks that inform our mission and identity.

Co-curricular Requirements

1. Global and Sustainability designated courses (one of each required);
2. Learning Community or Engaged Learning designated courses or experiences (see below for details)

Global and Sustainability Courses

Global and Sustainability courses and co-curricular experiences are designed to prepare students for active and responsible participation in global citizenship and stewardship of the earth and its resources.

Global designated courses promote “an openness to being transformed by the other – be it an idea, a person or an experience.” People from disparate regions are recognized as having agency in a globalized world. The characteristically Benedictine openness to “the other” does not only mean openness to persons of different cultures, but to the cultures themselves.

Sustainability designated courses seek to foster awareness that we are part of a larger ecology and that the environment is a precious gift to be respected for the sake of all life forms.

All undergraduates are required to complete one course or graded co-curricular experience that carries a Global designation and one that carries a Sustainability designation. These courses may also fulfill other requirements as designated by the catalog. Some courses may be designated Sustainability or Global by class section rather than at the catalog level, therefore students should consult advisors and term schedules in identifying Global and Sustainability designated course options. Of the IDS Seminars, IDS 2202 Catholic/Benedictine Intellectual Traditions: Sustainability/Stewardship and IDS 3302 Human Dignity/Common Good: Sustainability/Stewardship fulfill the Sustainability requirement, IDS 2203 Catholic/Benedictine Intellectual Traditions: Global and IDS 3303 Human Dignity/Common Good: Global fulfill the Global requirement, and IDS 2204 Catholic/Benedictine Intellectual Traditions: Sustainability/Stewardship and Global and IDS 3304 Human Dignity/Common Good: Sustainability/Stewardship and Global fulfill both the Sustainability and the Global requirements.

Some transfer courses are approved as meeting the Sustainability and Global designation criteria. Transfer students should consult with their academic advisor for details. Learning Community and Engaged Learning Requirements

All traditional undergraduates are required to complete one approved Learning Community or one approved Engaged Learning experience. Students in the accelerated undergraduate programs must complete an Engaged Learning course or experience. Some approved transfer courses or experiences may fulfill these requirements.

Learning Communities are intentionally designed structures that encourage students to integrate what they are learning in their various studies, disciplines, or experiences, and to connect to each other through ongoing social and project-based interaction. At Benedictine University, Learning Communities can be classroom, residential or experiential. Some Learning Communities are based in a single traditional class while others may require students, faculty and staff to study and travel off campus to work together in a linked group of classes, or to collaborate on projects outside the traditional academic environment. The common element in all of these options is the formation of working groups that practice effective shared learning, social organization and task completion.

Learning Community offerings typically vary by semester; see the Course Schedule for a given semester for details.

Engaged Learning experiences at Benedictine University can take a number of forms. An approved Engaged Learning might involve work in the larger campus community, a juried public performance, show of visual art or music, significant volunteer service, or an internship or professional project. All undergraduate internship courses will fulfill the Engaged Learning requirement. The common element in all of these experiences is that the student must apply previously learned information, values and skills to a specific setting, and explore the connections between classroom knowledge and real-world experiences. Engaged Learning experiences help prepare students for full participation in the world as accomplished community members and ethical professionals.

Some Engaged Learning experiences may be carried out as a component of a traditional course (for example, as part of a Capstone in the major), but these Engaged Learning experiences must be at least 30 percent fieldwork, one-on-one research, real-world simulation, or presentation of the student's work to an audience broader than the Benedictine instructor evaluating the course outcome (e.g. formal performance, conference presentation, publication, etc.). Although Engaged Learning experiences may have things in common with some types of Learning Communities, and certain offerings may be approved as fulfilling both requirements, Engaged Learning experiences need not involve group activity. Non-course Engaged Learning offerings may vary by semester.

Majors and minors:

1. A student must select a major field of study before completing 60 semester credit hours, and must complete the requirements set forth in the Catalog of their term of degree status admission under the heading for the selected major. Only courses in which a student has received a "C" or better may be applied to the major requirement.
2. A major field of study requires a minimum of 36 semester credit hours. A minimum of 18 semester credit hours must be completed at the 3000 level or above, of which at least 6 semester credit hours must be at the advanced 4000 level or above. At least 12 semester hours at the 3000 level or above in the major must be completed at Benedictine University including at least 3 hours at the 4000 level.
3. Students are encouraged to supplement their major and core programs with appropriate minors or emphases. The minor or emphasis can be used to round out a program of study by complementing the required major. For example, a student who selects a major in a technical or professional area might select a minor in the liberal arts to gain additional analytical and communication skills and vice versa.
4. A minor consists of a minimum of 15 semester credit hours with 6 semester credit hours of upper division work (3000 level or above) and no more than 30 semester credit hours of courses completed from the specified list for the minor program. At least 6 semester credit hours of coursework must be completed at Benedictine University including at least 3 semester hours at the 3000 level. Only courses in which a student has received a grade of "C" or better may be applied to the minor. Semester credit hours completed for a minor may be used to fulfill core or major requirements, although some major and minor departments may place restrictions on the double counting of courses. Students may not major and minor in the same subject. Successfully completed minors are designated on the transcript following graduation, if declared prior to the student's final term.

5. An emphasis is a grouping of courses outside a student's major or minor. The grouping consists of at least 12 and no more than 18 semester credit hours of required or recommended courses designed to focus on a particular area of study. At least 6 semester credit hours of coursework must be completed at Benedictine University. Only courses in which a student has received a grade of "C" or better may be applied to an emphasis. Successfully completed emphases are designated on the transcript following graduation, if declared prior to the student's final term.
6. A concentration is a grouping of courses within a student's major. This grouping consists of at least 12 semester credit hours of required or recommended courses designed to focus on a particular aspect of a major, and/or to focus on a particular career opportunity for graduates of that major. Students may not earn a concentration and minor/major in the same subject.

A maximum of 30 semester credit hours earned through any one or combination of external credit programs may be applied with the approval of the University toward the 120 semester credit hours required for the bachelor's degree. These credits will not be counted as part of the 30 semester credit hours of coursework at Benedictine University towards the academic residency requirement. Please see the External Credit Program section for details and accepted programs. The Petition for External Credit form may be found on the Office of the Registrar webpage (<https://ben.edu/academics/registrar/>).

A student may apply internship credit towards the minimum of 120 credit hours as follows: Humanities, 12 hours; Business Programs, 12 hours; International Business and Economics, 12 hours; Political Science, 12 hours; Health Care, 3 hours; Nutrition, 12 hours; Sociology/Psychology, 6 hours; Computer Information Systems, 12 hours; Computer Science, 12 hours; Mathematics, 12 hours; Biology, 12 hours.

A student must earn the recommendation from the faculty member of his or her major program for graduation. This recommendation is based upon fulfilling the program requirements, typically, including a comprehensive examination or other integrating experience.

A student must apply for graduation by the deadlines to be considered for graduation. One must be in good standing and have settled all financial accounts with the University to qualify for graduation.
